DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1 and 4 are objected to because of the following informalities: Regarding claim 1, the term "the transparent layer" should be replaced with "a transparent layer". Regarding claim 4, the term "tow" should be replaced with "two". Appropriate correction is required.

Specification

2. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification. Examples of errors replete throughout the disclosure include but are not limited to the following:

"so may be decrease the damage of the transparent layer, so as to increase the production yield" (p.1, lines 5-7);

"In order to finish the above-mentioned package processes, the transparent layer 34 10 has to be efficiently cleaned, so as to decrease the particle, and positioned transparent layer 34 to a carrier for operator to take that" (p. 2, lines 1-3);

"However, the conventional carrier mechanism for an image sensor package has following drawbacks. 1.Since the surface of the transparent layer 34 is contacted the surface of the frame, so the surface of the transparent layer 34 is easily damage. Thus, the manufacturing yield is decrease" (p.2, lines 9-13);

"Therefore the transparent layer 62 is fixed and the surface of the transparent layer 62 is not contact with the substrate 50, so that the surface of the transparent layer 62 can not damage to increase the production yield" (p. 4, lines 10-14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the applicant does not disclose the material of the posts nor the transparent layer. Additionally, applicant does not disclose the manner in which the posts prevent the transparent layer from being in contact with the carrier substrate. According to the disclosure, there appears to be nothing preventing the transparent layer from sliding down the posts and contacting the substrate.

Regarding claim 2, applicant does not disclose the location of the fixing regions nor the relationship between the fixing regions and the angles of the plurality of slots.

Regarding claim 3, applicant does not disclose the manner in which posts are affixed to the carrier substrate.

Regarding claim 4, since claim 1 lacks enablement and claim 4 is dependent on claim 1, claim 4 also lacks enablement.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.
